

Issue 6 www.xibitz.com 800.339.0288
for more information: lets\_talk@xibitz.com

xibitz
Experiential Spaces for Work and Life

Xsight

Welcome to another X-Sight! Your friends at Xibitz would like to share some details on another project we've recently completed. This issue is a good example of how Xibitz can align production techniques and material choices with your specific design criteria.

[ This project is a fine example of how Xibitz packages its design and production skills to produce informative and immersive experiences for world-class museums. ]

X: on this project:

- Design Solutions
- Value Engineering
- Cost-efficient Fabrication of Key Elements
- Logistics
- Installation Supervision

And Justice For All! The Henry Ford

Intelligent production—the kind that honors the intent of the design—isn't always apparent at first glance. The Henry Ford's "With Liberty and Justice For All" is a good example of this truism. Gallagher & Associates trusted Xibitz to produce signature elements like the George Washington Tent as well as a display of one of the few surviving copies of the Declaration of Independence. When one of the original tent designs wouldn't work, the Xibitz artisans crafted a unique solution that realistically displayed 18th century artifacts like Washington's camp chest and bed, yet hid the necessary 21st century supporting infrastructure. The design was respected, the client was happy, and the display is a success!

Putting the concept of intelligent production into practice, the Xibitz artisans faithfully simulated the impressive metal dome on the Federal Edifice display (left) and remained within budget by choosing a cost-efficient metal over wood. To allow for lighting and fire suppression requirements, Xibitz intentionally chose to keep the Federal Edifice dome open (middle). Along with all the displays, the George Washington tent was conservationally sealed with gaskets to control humidity and temperature (right).

“Exhibit Works Inc. and Xibitz were able to work together to utilize each company's strength and capacity. The collaboration was smooth and the final results exceeded our expectations.”

- Project Manager,
Exhibit Works Inc.